Madam,

END OF WEEK SHOW

We congratulate you on this taboo-breaking series. On the 7th August, however, it was stated that the model of pierced male genitalia could not be shown: Why?

It would have been on Continental television. Viewers at 11.30 pm all have (or should have) seen a real penis. The sight of a model of one would therefore certainly be acceptable in the circumstances.

Surely your aim is to ignore "No sex please-we're British" Grundyism, not to comply with it! When confronted with English nannyism, one should ask who is trying to protect whom from what and why.

Yours faithfully,

Clr E Goodman
