Dear Cllr Goodman

SEX OFFENCES REVIEW

We previously wrote to thank you for sending a contribution to the sex offences review. The evidence from all these have helped us to develop our recommendations, which we hope to publish in the near future. We will, of course, ensure that you are sent a copy of our report.

We are now starting to receive requests to see the evidence presented to us. In principle, as part of our open process, we would like to be able to make the evidence sent to us available to researchers if they wish to see it. However, some submissions have clearly been sent to us on a confidential basis, and others may not have been written for wider consideration. We would therefore only make submissions available with the permission of the author.

I am writing to you to seek permission for the evidence that you put before the review to be disclosed on request. There is no obligation on you to agree to this; if you would like your submission to remain private that is what we will do.

We would be grateful if you could reply in writing (or e-mail) at your earliest convenience.

Yours sincerely

PP. Su McLean-Tooke
