Dear Sir,

Congratulations on your robust defiance of Mrs. Jackson and her 'Victorian' values (BBC History Magazine, December). It seems she does not know that censorship of sexual content did not work even for the Victorians.

Research shows that quite surprising numbers of our nineteenth century forebears were conceived out of wedlock. If ignorance could have prevented it, we would not be here.

Yours faithfully,

Mrs.M.M.Hayward

I sent this one in my own name because it's possible that you see the magazine too.
