Dear Mr Blunt,

DIGITAL ECONOMY BILL

Thank you for your detailed letter of 19th December 2016. It is much appreciated.

You state that the British Board of Film Classification will not police the internet. You are, unfortunately, misinformed. It will block even minor-excluding websites which contain material that it does not certificate for British DVDs ie depiction of non-conventional sex acts. (See enclosed details). No other Western country does this.

Please, therefore oppose this part of the Bill.

New Year Greetings,

E. Goodman.
